SEE YOUR RADIO BROADCASTER

When you are receiving a talk by a lecturer or the voice of some singer, turn on this machine and watch the broadcaster perform at the same time. That is one of the purposes of this "radio-movie" machine, invented by Charles A. Hixie of the General Electric company, who is shown with his invention. It can be applied merely to showing movies and reproducing the voice of the actor, says Hixie, or to transmission of a voice through various broadcasting stations, after it had recorded that voice at a central station.

RADIO REVOLUTION!

Amateurs May Break Transatlantic Record of Paul Godley

Radio amateurs of America and Great Britain are preparing to break the record made last year when Paul Godley received messages across the Atlantic on low wave length and limited power. This time, it is assured, no American will be needed to "pick up" a set in England in order to receive the signals from the slide. For officials of the American Radio Relay League, who have charge of this test, report: British amateurs have already heard Americans during the preliminaries that have just ended.

The trans-Atlantic contest will take place between December 10 and December 30. During the first ten days Americans will transmit, in the remaining period they will try to receive British amateurs' signals.

What It Means

The significance of these tests lies in the fact that the signals will be transmitted on a low wave length of 200 meters and under low power, whereas the daily messages sent across the ocean by commercial and government wireless stations get there easily because they go under high power and on a high wave length. If the amateurs succeed in their purpose, a revolution is expected in the present method of trans-Atlantic transmission.

That they are sure to succeed is attested by the hopeful reports coming from England. During the preliminary series, when American amateurs had to qualify by showing that they received over a distance of at least 1200 miles in this country, reports came from England that some of those were taken down even there—3000 miles away.

Fifty American amateurs already have qualified for the final tests and officials of the A. R. R. L. expect us many more before the tests begin. Schedules are being arranged for them, whereby each amateur or group will be allowed 15 minutes for transmission, while all the other amateurs of the country will remain silent.

Value of Tanlac is Forcefully Shown

The value of Tanlac in overcoming stomach trouble and other diseases that result in a run-down condition is forcefully proven in the case of Mrs. Clara Stearns, highly esteemed resident of 111 Front St., Manchester, N. H., who recently said: "For over two years I was almost a wreck from stomach trouble and in a terribly run-down, nervous condition. I was simply afraid to eat because I knew I would pay the penalty from indigestion and heartburn. What little work I was able to do was only because I forced my nervous energy almost to the breaking point. My head would ache fearfully and I would get so dizzy I could not stand alone. I would lie awake nights for hours, unable to compose my nerves enough to sleep and I simply lived in fear and dread of the future."

"I tried so many medicines without relief I was not much impressed when friends urged me to take Tanlac. But I certainly am glad that I did act on their advice, for I am now as well and strong as anyone you can find. Tanlac has no equal."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Adv.

OPERA HOUSE
"Girls and Gigolos" is the title of the new musical comedy looked up by Manager Schenck of the Opera House for the first three days of this week, beginning this afternoon. There is a large company of beautifully costumed girls who sing through a series of clean snappy songs and dances. This show is said to excel any of the road attractions shown at the Opera House this season and that is saying

Baby Specialists.

THAT there are Physicians who specialize on Infant ailments you know. All Physicians understand Infant troubles: all Physicians treat them. It is his profession, his duty, to know human ills from the Stork to the Great Beyond.

But in serious cases he calls in the Specialist. Why? He knows as every Mother knows, or ought to know, that Baby is just a baby, needing special treatment, special remedies.

Can a Mother be less thoughtful? Can a Mother try to relieve Baby with a remedy that she would use for herself? Ask yourself; and answer honestly!

Always remember that Baby is just a baby. And remembering this you will remember that Fletcher's Castoria is made especially for Infants and Children.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's
CASTORIA

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splash, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little one.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true?

B. FASCHER'S THEATRE

Touted as the two best comedians on the American stage, and he no less an authority than George M. Cohan, William H. Macy and Ethelwynne B. Bradford will appear at the B. F. Fascher theatre, this week, in their farce comedy "Take My Tip." Macy and Bradford have been rated very high for a number of years. Their rapid interplay of fun has placed them in a class where but few can enter. Years of practice at speedy retort, at the taking advantage of every opening and the turning of it into laughter, have given them a prestige that rates them as headliners.

And there are a couple of the nicest nuts on this bill who have ever lined up to create fun. They are Shaw & Lee, who will give an act known as "Nature's Gift." Whether these gifts refer to their almost uncanny ability to spot out the funny bones in their audiences is not known. Fact remains, they are funny.

Tony Hunting and Corinne Francis will be with us once again. This time they have "The Photo Grafter," a mélange of music, dancing and fun. First they came to us in "The Lozenge" and later we saw them in "The Power Shop." Every season they maneuver a new piece, and they will present their latest during the present week. One never wants to miss this team.

"Just the Two of Us" are Harrison Greene and Katherine Parker, who come direct from musical comedy to the vaudeville stage, and who bring, also, a lot of the snappy ways of the legitimate stage. They are good runners-up in this bill.

The Bally Hoo trio will initiate what we have all seen at a circus tent, and then they will give some of the acts we have seen under the big top. Harry Moore, a manipulator of paper, and Ruth & Thurston have a program of radio music and dancing. It is an unusual combination.

RIALTO THEATRE

The double feature program, introducing "An Gulliver" and "Moved in Admiration," two exceptionally good screen stories, open a two days' engagement at the Rialto theatre this afternoon. The supporting features are also extra good. Both stories are taken from magazine fiction and are well fitted for the screen.

THE STRAND

"Remembrance," a story from the pen of Rupert Hughes, with an all-star cast, is the headline on the bill at the Strand for today, tomorrow and Wednesday. It's a picture story that promises to share with "The Old Maid" and other similar successes by the same author. Don't miss seeing it. Shirley Mason in "Youth Must Have Love" is the second feature, and there are other contributions of genuine merit.

BLACK VELVET FRONK
A gown of black velvet is trimmed about the elbow sleeves and on the pockets with tiny puffs of yellow Valenciennes lace. There's a narrow riddle of royal blue ribbon.

20 Women and Children Rescued

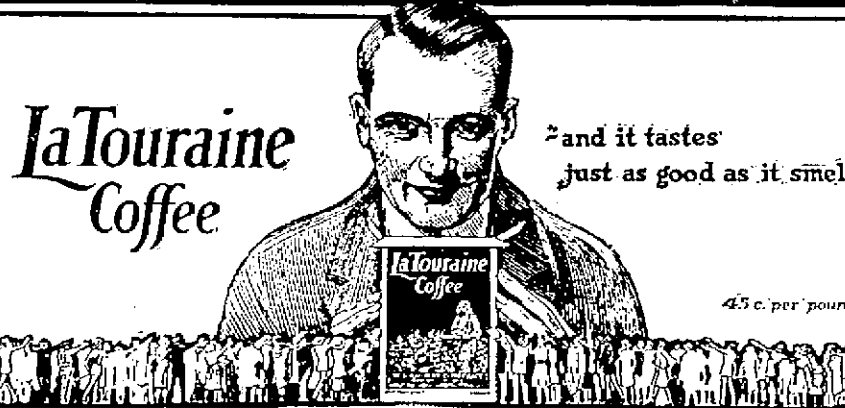

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Twenty women and children were carried down ladders to safety early today when fire was discovered in the basement of a five-story tenement on Tenth avenue, near 51st street. The stairways were so thick with smoke that it was impossible for tenants, aroused by the police, to escape that way. Herding them onto the front fire escapes, firemen and police used scaling ladders to get the women and children to safety in the street below.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in address to Bible class in New York attributes violation of prohibition laws to presumption by Americans to choose which laws to obey and which to break.

Bodies of John and Charles Davis, brothers, found in outskirts of Orford, N. H., with heads crushed by an axe.

NO NEED OF THIRD PARTY

Says Bernard M. Baruch—

Declares He Intends to Remain a Democrat

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—There is no need of a third party and he intends to remain a democrat, Bernard M. Baruch, former chairman of the war industries board and personal friend of former President Woodrow Wilson, declared today. He made this reply to one by Col. Robert Montgomery, a republican and former general controller of the United States shipping board, and who joined with Mr. Baruch on the war industries board. Col. Montgomery had suggested that the manufacturers and farmers be brought together with Mr. Baruch in charge of the organization of a third party.

WELL KNOWN ACTON MAN

DIES AT AGE OF 92

Hon. Luther Conant of Acton, 92 years old, long a well known figure in industrial and community affairs in Middlesex county, one-time representative and later state senator from his district, died this morning in the old homestead in which he was born, after a short illness due to the infirmities of his age. The historic town in which he passed his life, and which he aided by many private and public acts all his life, is today in mourning for the passing of her distinguished son.

Mr. Conant was widely known, and many old time citizens of Lowell remember well when he was actively engaged in civic works and supporting new campaigns in community agricultural pursuits, as well as staunchly backing all good movements for the welfare of his town, the county and the state.

Lowell citizens of the days closely following the Civil war, and even later than that, remember the Acton man for his activities in county affairs of note while a member of the legislature. After serving one term as representative from Acton, he was elected state senator by an overwhelming vote, and his record on Beacon Hill compared favorably with other representatives from rural sections of the state.

Mr. Conant conducted a large produce and dairy farm most of his long life. He held many town offices in Acton, and for more than 30 years was elected moderator of the annual town meetings there. He was elected some time ago life president of the board of trustees of the Acton Memorial library, which was erected by a life-long friend of his—Hon. William Allen Wilde, Boston book publisher, also a native of Acton.

Mr. Conant was a staunch supporter of the Acton Congregational church all his life. He was a republican in politics, a staunch supporter of Theodore Roosevelt and Rooseveltian policies until the latter joined the Bull Moose movement. He had paid numerous trips to Washington, being the special guest of numerous public men. Mr. Conant is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Herman Parker and Miss Charlotte Conant, and three sons, Luther Conant, Jr., Augustus B. Conant and Elbridge R. Conant. Burial will be in the old Conant memorial lot in Woodlawn cemetery, Acton Centre, a spot that the deceased had spent much money in beautifying for the benefit of the people of the town.

LIPTON'S VIEWS ON "BUM SPORT" CHARGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Sir Thomas Lipton was asked today, in view of controversy over a countryman's remarks, whether Americans were "bum sports." He countered with this story:

"A lady once wrote me that she was sure the Americans were putting something in the water so the Shamrock couldn't win. I wrote back to her and said I thought she was right. The Americans were putting the Shamrock in the water."

LITTLE ELANOR

IS OUT OF DANGER

The report that little Eleanor Hurley of Somersworth, N. H., had passed away at St. Joseph's hospital in Nashua, N. H., as a result of injuries she sustained in an automobile accident on the Tyngsboro boulevard a week ago last Saturday, is unfounded. As a matter of fact the little girl is getting along fine and is expected to leave the hospital within a short time.

SHOT IN ABDOMEN BY HOLDUP MAN

SOMERVILLE, Nov. 13.—Jacob M. Arzoshian of Cambridge, who was shot in the abdomen by a holdup man here last night, was in a serious condition in the Somerville hospital today. Arzoshian was in his fruit store when the holdup entered and demanded to be shown the cash drawer. The storekeeper complied but the man shot him and fled with $11.

Case of Walter S. Ward Postponed

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 13.—The case of Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, charged with the murder of Clarence Peters last May, and now out on $50,000 bail, came up before Supreme Court Justice Morschauser here today and after a brief argument was adjourned until next Monday. Adjournment was taken on request of District Attorney Weeks after a heated exchange with Isaac N. Mills, of counsel for Ward. Mills, declaring that he would move for dismissal if a trial date were not set, demanded that Weeks announce whether the case would go to trial this month. The district attorney replied in the negative. Asked why the case could not go to trial, Weeks refused to answer.

Jack Daw at Sea! Chapter 8

Suddenly Jack's eyes began to water and he noticed that the little pebbles along the shore were throwing up a brilliant reflection. As he examined the pebbles he discovered that they were not just ordinary stones but pearls. Then a voice from above startled him.

"What are you doing on this island?" asked a little fat man who stood at the top of a hill of pearls. Jack explained how his raft had drifted there. "Well, don't be afraid," shouted the man. "I like company. Come on up here." So Jack started to climb the beautiful white hill.

He had gone but a few steps when the great mass of pearls started to roll down on him. In an instant Jack was almost buried, and very frightened. The old man, at the top of the hill, however, just laughed. "Here, sonny," he shouted, "grab this rope and I'll help you." (Continued.)

MANY AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS SUNDAY

There were no less than seven automobile accidents in this city and neighboring towns yesterday, but none of a serious nature.

An automobile operated by Frank P. Hurley, of 305 Summer street and a machine driven by R. Shaloud of 30 Cannon street, collided on the Hillieria boulevard. Both cars were damaged and one man, whose name could not be learned, was slightly injured.

John Jorkulka, aged five years and residing at 13 George street, was struck by an automobile near the corner of George and Church streets and sustained injuries, which were treated at St. John's hospital. The driver of the car was Gertrude L. Foley of 102 Saratoga street, Lawrence.

A man, whose name could not be learned, sustained a fracture of the leg when the motorcycle he was driving, crashed into an automobile operated by Fernando Espinola, of 32 Union street. The accident occurred on the Hillieria boulevard.

Samuel Davis, of 139 Third street, reported that while operating his automobile through Bridge street, Edward J. Marley, of 253 Lakeview avenue, stepped from the sidewalk into the path of the machine and was knocked down. He sustained injuries to his leg and his clothing was badly torn. He was treated at St. John's hospital.

Two automobiles, one owned by Hazel E. Joslin, of 3 West Tenth st.

and the other by H. V. Charbonneau of 530 Moody street, collided at the junction of Gorham and Summer streets. Gladys C. Joslin, an occupant of one of the machines, was injured about the head.

An automobile operated by Charles P. Shattuck, of 15 Dickens street, Dorchester, struck and knocked down a fire alarm box at Davis square.

John F. Condon, of 63 Parker street, has reported that his machine was struck by an automobile bearing the Massachusetts registration, 217106, in Westford street. Both cars were damaged.

Thoughts For Mothers Who Wish To Safeguard Their Families

There is a simple, inexpensive way that 1300,000 mothers have of providing a safeguard against colds, coughs, hoarseness, spasmodic croup, and catarrhal ailments. These ailments are not serious if given prompt attention—but many a mother has neglected a cold of a few days and it has become pneumonia, diphtheria or influenza.

A catch in the voice is a warning as it relates to a common cold. First, avoid any medicine containing chloroform or opiates of any kind. Such medicines are not necessary—and may do more harm than good.

Devoted mothers save about $3.00, and make a pure, effective medicine at home and avoid expense and anxiety. They purchase 25¢ box of the pure concentrate, Eucalyptol-Laxene, then make a syrup of sugar and water and have a full pint of the very best cough syrup in the world at a cost of less than $1.00.

A few doses given when a cold or cough first starts, soon checks it and drives it out of the system and the danger of pneumonia and other fatal or lingering disease is avoided. Plain directions come with the Eucalyptol-Laxene—so simple and easy that a child could make a full pint in less than 10 minutes. Good doctors and druggists recommend it.

MALE STENOGRAPHERS

Chance for Lowell War Vets - and Others to Secure Good Government Jobs

Here is a chance for more males who know how to pound a typewriter and turn out correctly written manuscripts, and also have some knowledge of shorthand. Familiarity with stenography are not very scarce in government circles at the present time, but masculine handlers of the shorthand pens and Remingtons are, most decidedly.

The chance is open to war veterans and all other citizens who know how to typewrite and write shorthand, and a job in the government service means something nowadays when jobs are somewhat scarce.

Uncle Samuel has numerous positions for expert stenographers, and typists. Positions are also waiting in the federal prohibition branch campaign against law violators, and there are jobs open in the war veterans' bureau, among other vacancies that must be filled without delay. Lowell experts with the pen and the shorthand work, and typists of fast speed and correctness in spelling, etc., may compete for the berths.

A typist and stenographer typist examination for the United States government field service will be held Nov. 13 at the Lowell postoffice, for filling vacancies in the customs and internal revenue services, U. S. Veterans' bureau, war and navy departments, U. S. Immigration service at Montreal and Quebec, Canada and Halifax, Nova Scotia, and St. John's, New Brunswick, and also in the offices of the federal prohibition directors and other branches of Uncle Sam's service not mentioned.

The supply of male eligibles qualified in both stenography and typewriting is declared today to be far short of the demand. Government officials don't quite understand it. And while there has been no real shortage of the supply of female eligibles qualified in both stenography and typewriting, the present supply of members representing this sex barely keeps abreast of the demand. The usual entrance salaries now are from $1000 to $1200 a year, with excellent prospects of advancement. In almost all branches of the service the bonus of $240 a year granted by congress is allowed.

The examinations to be held in Lowell are open to all citizens of the United States who have reached their eighteenth birthday on the date of the examination. Information and application blanks, form 1371, may be secured of the secretary of the Civil Service examiners at the Lowell postoffice.

Yesterday's Question: Is the air too warm or cold?

The Answer: "The weather was too hot," or "the weather was too cold"—those two excuses explain why so many homemade bread batches fail. But in the Bond Bread kitchens there is no Summer, no Winter. The temperature is always just so. Huge radiators conquer the cold. Huge ice-machines hold down the heat. The weather never changes where Bond Bread is made.

WORLD'S CONVENTION OF W. C. T. U. OPENS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—An airplane carrying a special delegate from Birmingham, Ala., to the world's convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union was due here at noon today. The program calls for a greeting by two "host" planes which like the visiting plane, were to be decked by white ribbon streamers emblematic of the temperance movement.

The reception fleet was ready to take the air as soon as the southern plane was sighted and after circling around the visitor, was to escort it toward city hall tower where large quantities of leaflets and other W.C.T.U. literature were to be dropped.

As the W.C.T.U. automobile parade, headed by a platoon of mounted police, proceeded along Broad street, it was planned to have the Alabama plane hover overhead.

Other features planned for today included rallies this afternoon and evening.

New Beauty Came

A story that millions know

Millions of people have gained new beauty through a new teeth cleaning method. You see them everywhere. Their teeth now glisten, and they show them when they smile. If you don't know that method, make this test.

Combats the film

It is film that makes teeth dingy—that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film. Under old methods, very few escaped them. Beautiful teeth were less often seen than today.

Old ways failed

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So much film remained to night and day threaten serious damage.

But dental science has now found two ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants were embodied in it.

Fights acid, too

Pepsodent brings other much-desired effects. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth before they ferment and form acids.

Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. Each use of Pepsodent gives them manifold power. These combined effects mean a new era in dental hygiene. Careful people of some fifty nations now share it, largely by dental advice.

You'll be amazed

The effects of Pepsodent are quick and apparent. They will amaze and delight you. A short test will convince you that this method is essential, both to you and yours.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then judge by what you see and feel. Cut out the coupon now.

"INCREDIBLE IMBECILITY"

According to the presiding genius of the Courier-Citizen, they were imbeciles who voted against Senator Lodge and almost accomplished his defeat in Tuesday's election. The League of Women Voters, according to our contemporary, was mainly responsible for the assault upon the senator; but there is no good reason for any such belief. Joseph Walker and the Liberal Republican league led the opposition to Lodge, and at no point did the woman show a spirit of adroitness toward Lodge. If it showed incredible imbecility to vote for Col. Gaston as against Senator Lodge, then there were, roundly no less than 405,153 such voters who went to the polls in this commonwealth last Tuesday.

It is interesting to follow our neighbor's line of reasoning or unreasoning, for his conclusions, being based upon unwarranted assumptions, must of course be equally inaccurate, biased and absurd.

In the first place, he states that Mr. Lodge has become the "country's leading statesman." It is true that the senator has become a national figure; but as to statesmanship, the claim that he deserves the title given him by the editor of the Courier-Citizen is disputed by some of the leading newspapers of the country and by a very large portion of the republican party that has been sending Mr. Lodge to Washington for 33 years. Indeed the revolt against Lodge has been largely within the republican party and largely made up of men interested in the industrial welfare of Massachusetts. It is not surprising that they should look to their senator for some action calculated to remove the railroad discrimination against New England, and especially against Massachusetts, through the enforced defense of the port of Boston. Senator Lodge has devoted his time and his scholarship to the affairs of the republican party, just as if the welfare of this nation depended upon its perpetuity in power. Very likely the editor of the Courier-Citizen considers this the highest duty of statesmanship. It is apparently the highest Mr. Lodge is capable of, as may be judged from the manner in which the interests of the south, the west and middle west, have been allowed to override those of New England.

But the writer who extols Lodge as the greatest statesman of the country has this to say of Senator Walsh and Col. William A. Gaston:

"Rather than re-elect Mr. Lodge, it appears that thousands of republicans stood perfectly ready to endure a term of servitude—represented at Washington by David Ignatius Walsh as senator-elect and by William Alexander Gaston as junior. Mr. Walsh is among the lesser lights of the senate, to say the utmost of his capacities and prestige. Mr. Gaston would be an utterly unknown quantity, a newcomer of the rawest, in a circle where seniority often counts for much more than brains."

It is not surprising that a man who expresses such an opinion as that, regards the voters who opposed Lodge as imbeciles and "anerine." But it is his own vision that is blurred, his own judgment, not that of the voters, that is warped. Senator Walsh fought openly and stubbornly in behalf of Massachusetts and New England, something that Mr. Lodge has not done for a great many years; and as for Mr. Gaston, he is recognized as the same type of business man as the late Whitthrop Murray Crane, who made few speeches but who, from his fine executive ability, accomplished a great deal for his constituents.

How any editor can so overestimate an official of his own party and so underestimate those of the opposition, can be explained only by the fact that he uses the magnifying glass upon his own and views the men of the democratic party through the reverse end of the telescope. This mental process call it imbecility, aneurism, insanity, proven by a more familiar term, is incapable of reaching accurate conclusions on such matters as the comparative merits of Lodge and Walsh as public servants.

The citizens who opposed Senator Lodge and voted for Col. Gaston, sensed the needs of this commonwealth and its varied industries, much better than did those who voted for the republican candidate, better than did the republican editors who shouted for the election of that candidate; and as for Senator Walsh, he is the only member of the senate who upheld the honor of the old Bay State as he did when he voted against seating the boodle senator from Michigan and against the robber wool tariff on which Lodge surrendered to the predatory interests.

HUMANITY'S HAND MAIDENS

The number of Lowell girls entering hospitals to study nursing, steadily increases from year to year. Last year more than a dozen Lowell young women graduated from training schools, prepared and equipped to aid in the care and saving of human life both in hospital and home. This year the number of students going out to take up the work of training for nursing positions all over the land, is commendable.

The summary shows that of all the "trades" best suited to women who aim to be of real assistance in the better fields of life's applications, that of caring for human lives cannot be equalled.

Honor, then, to all those young women who are going out to take up the duties of trained nurses. They are always ready when called and can be found at their posts of duty with unfailing regularity wherever and whenever their services are needed. It is a work of something beside human love and pity—it is a vocation of honor.

and purity, with results of untold value when its ministrations are summed up in the final reckoning.

ANSWER THE CALL!

The American Red Cross must always be active in order to be ready. And the Red Cross cannot be ready unless it can count steadily upon the support of the citizens who make this institution of mercy and relief extension possible.

The annual Red Cross "roll call" is now on. Lowell citizens and all those who live in towns in the neighborhood of Lowell are asked to contribute to this worthy cause, which really needs no advertising unless it be necessary to arouse some of the people to the actual needs of this hour.

Armistice Day was an excellent occasion for the starting of the honor roll. If you did not put your name down among the foremost last Saturday, put it down today, and give what you can toward the fund that distributes aid to people all over the world every day in the year. And when you have given once, get someone else to give if you can, and thus help the good cause.

For the Red Cross is not something that will be here today and gone tomorrow. It is and ought to be permanent, and its field of usefulness is large and ever growing in size.

THE CANDIDATES

With the city election approaching and such an army of candidates in the field, it behooves the voters to begin their study early to size up the candidates, to find out who they are and what is the qualification of each one for the office he seeks. It may be laid down as a good rule not to throw away a vote on any candidate who has no business, no occupation and who wants a city hall office only to get the opportunity to make what he can out of it. The city always suffers by the election of such a candidate and we have had a few of them quite recently. At last Tuesday's election it was found that the voters exercised fairly good judgment; but they will have a more perplexing problem in passing judgment upon the candidates at the city primaries. It is true that the best possible selection will be none too good, but the intelligent voter will support only men who are qualified for the positions they seek.

THE COAL SUPPLY

Now that the cold weather is at hand the matter of securing a supply of hard coal for the winter is the one thing that bothers most of the poor families of the city. In spite of all the fuel administrators and the promises to prevent profiteers from manipulating the coal supply, it appears that the speculators have cornered the supply at the mines and refuse to sell it except at a large profit. Fuel administrators advised the dealers not to pay the exorbitant price demanded; but the people cannot afford to wait until the speculators are put out of business. The government, it seems, is very slow to deal with people who undertake to fleece the public in this way. The officials from the president down, however, should benefit by the lessons of last Tuesday's election and take immediate steps to prevent the profiteers from robbing the public.

SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT

There are numerous indications of substantial improvement in the woolen and worsted industry. Among them are the recent restoration of old wage scales by mills that undertook to reduce wages early in the year, but in so doing encountered labor difficulties; increases in prices on fabrics; increased consumption of raw wool; increased activity of mill machinery, and reports from various sections of the trade of a broader demand for yarn and cloth and more active calls for clothing at retail.

While the cotton mills are not running "full," the woolen mills are running much more nearly full than the worsted, and now we learn from nearly worsted mills that the improvement has reached that section of the textile industry. The domestic market is much better than it was, supplies are not heavy anywhere, and prices appear to be on the upward swing with the better demand for goods required.

JEWELS

Money systems come and go, but jewels—especially diamonds—last forever. In Austria and Russia, where the money is not worth the powder it blows it up, the people have turned to jewels as a monetary rock of ages, a medium of exchange having semi-permanent value.

So reports Pierre Cartier, gem expert, back from Europe. He says Russia and Austria this year have exported at least $100,000,000 of jewels. The lion's share has come to America, which is growing richer and richer like ancient Babylon, but not, let us hope, moving toward a similar fate.

THE EXTRA SESSION

President Harding by calling an extra session of congress for November 20, is planning to do what he can to pull the party out of a hole before the present congress goes out of existence. He may have the ship subsidy bill passed and yet again he may not.

It might be well for some people to remember that the custodian of a public building is responsible for its safety while it is under his charge.

More power to the Gold Star mothers of Lowell.

May we not now expect that business will go full steam ahead?

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Just how these outside city experts on agricultural matters make out that the prices for turkeys and chickens for Thanksgiving are going to be from 10 to 15 cents a pound cheaper this year is more than I can understand. They had it all doped out last year for "lower prices," but when you came to buy a good fancy bird with plenty of youth and necessary weight for stuffing without too many wrinkles you had to pay top prices and a little bit more. And yet newspaper despatches from New York city have it that turkey and poultry of all kinds are more plentiful this year and prices must come down. Understand that Vermont lent in the sales game this year so heavily as other states, Texas farmers getting ready to ship 700 or 750 carloads out of that state between now and Dec. 1.

One of the features of the excellent entertainment at Odd Fellows' hall Thursday evening, when Centralville Rebekah lodge, No. 137, I.O.O.F., entertained, was "The Emigrants' Party," arranged and staged under the leadership of Mrs. Vina Prentiss, who deserves great credit for her excellent work in solving a difficult problem. The entertainment was highly enjoyed, nearly 500 persons enjoying the offerings provided for their pleasure during the evening.

It was with a great deal of pleasure that local hibernians received the announcement of the executive committee of the corporation to the effect that everything possible is being done to secure new quarters for the order in Lowell. With this end in view, it has been decided to conduct a carnival in January, Feb. 1 and 2, and once more the Lowell public will be called upon to patronize and support a worthy cause. This is an old problem. The question of putting up a new building has long been discussed but the experience of the Odd Fellows, the Mathews and the Parkes in building enterprises is not encouraging. It should be remembered, however, that the two latter had no fixed income or membership, same as have the hibernian lodge. Building at present, however, is far more expensive than in past years.

The Owen Norrany Associates are still receiving congratulations for the spirit which prompted their action in conducting a benefit dance for the popular Owen who received severe injuries as the result of a vicious assault some time ago. That the young man who is favored and known in this city is attended by the unusually large crowd which attended the recent dance and rejoiced with his more intimate friends at his narrow escape from more serious consequences, following the brutal attack, as which he was confined to the hospital for a long period and underwent three delicate operations. The local sporting public best remembers Owen as a gladiator in the roped arena, for on several occasions he has appeared as a milt artist in Lowell clubs. His sporting activities also extended to the baseball and football fields where he displayed a remarkable ability to do things well. With such a clean, manly record behind him, it is no wonder that Associate hall was crowded to the doors on the night of the dance for his benefit.

A Thought

Much as I have seen of the world, of its triumphs, of its glories, and of its magnificence, I have never for a moment shaken the conviction that the best thing this life has to offer is the very best of heaven, the very best of earth, the very best of life, the very best of existence, is in kind affections.—Henry Colman.

Can and Cannot

Smith, the fruit farmer, and Jones, a manufacturer's agent, were talking shop together. "I can never understand," said Jones, "how you manage to use such an enormous quantity of pears and peaches." "Well," Smith answered, "We sell what we can and we can what we sell." "Ah," replied the other, "that's about what we do." "What's that?" "We sell an order when we can sell it, and when we can't we cancel it."

Always a Why

After being conducted through an old English church by the vergor, a visitor was so pleased with the official's courtesy that he insisted on giving him half a crown. The man shook his head and said, "Thank you, sir, but I am not allowed to accept of it." "I'm sorry for that," said the visitor, about to return the coin to his pocket. "But," added the vergor, "if I were to find a coin lying on the floor it would not be against the rules for me to pick it up."

The Cowboy "Diplomat"

One of T. R.'s standing favorites concerned some cowboys who, after catching a supposed horse thief, discovered to their dismay that they had caught and executed the wrong man. One among them, who had a reputation for tact, was selected to break the news to the victim's wife. "I'm afraid," he began, "that the woman replied, 'No, ya ain't neither; you're his widow.'"

Solve Disappearance of Golf Balls

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 13.—The reason for the disappearance of many golf balls on the Augusta Country club course has been solved. The culprit was a squirrel. From the little animal's winter storage have been recovered 31 balls, some carrying imprints of the teeth of the squirrel, which evidently had thought them a new kind of nut.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

"FOREIGNERS"

England, France and Italy; they once were our allies. When war was over land and sea and darkened all the skies, Their sons and ours were comrades in earth's mightiest crusade, But now we stand apart from them and will not lend our aid. They were good enough to march beside and fight beside and give beside Our blood to mingle with their blood that battlefields have laved; But they are not good enough for us to toil and plan and live beside, To build anew the battered world which they and we had saved!

England, France and Italy; they once were our allies. What if they sometimes seem to strive for policies unwise? Are we so clean of selfishness, of greedy aims so free, That we can turn away from them like any Pharisae? They were good enough for comrades when our sons went forth to war, They were good enough for comrades when our sons went forth to war, But they are not good enough to strive and build and bravely toil beside, To bring about the kind of world our soldiers battled for!

England, France and Italy; they once were our allies. How long shall we keep viewing them with dull and hostile eyes? Their strength was broken by the war, their nerves are wracked with pain, How long shall they appeal to us and plead with us in vain? They were good enough to fight beside and trace the battle mark beside, And good enough to die beside, as all our soldiers knew, And they are good enough as friends to struggle and to work beside, In order that our soldiers' dreams may finally come true!

EVANGELIST PREACHES AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

That sin is a willful transgression of the known law of God and that the chief sins of mankind are ingratitude, pride, jealousy, money and gluttony, were points of importance brought out by Evangelist E. C. Mercer last evening in St. Anne's Episcopal church. The evangelist is conducting a week of preaching at this church.

The practice in some cities of making "a vaudeville show of the pulpit" was strongly denounced by the speaker. The subject of his main address was "The People God Hates." He said in part: "How about the sin of ingratitude? You blamed God for the war. God was not to blame for the war, it was human beings, the commercialists, the money who were responsible, not God. God was blamed for the 'bad season' in California last year, but there was no gratitude for the 15 years of good seasons previous to that one."

The evangelist spoke of the sins of "gossiping," the faults of pride and jealousy and the trouble of jealousy caused, and then the problem of church-going.

"The big problem today is to get people outside to go to church," said the evangelist. "Some say because they belong to certain clubs and go there, they do not need to go to church. Just because you are a Mason, for instance, does not say you do not need to go to church. The same is true of the man who is an Elk, a member of the chamber of commerce or the Rotary club. Have respect for all, but it does not take you from the responsibility of going to church."

The evangelist declared that the "making of the pulpit of Jesus Christ a vaudeville show" was greatly to be deplored. He said people could not be brought permanently into the church by such attractions as "vaudeville stunts."

In closing the speaker said:

"You are given your free will, the power of choice to deny or choose God."

Turn in faith and belief to God and he will make you strong and happy; make you a power and gain you the respect of the best people."

FRATERNAL NEWS

LOWELL TEAM IN RUNNING

First Week of Polo Season Finds Locals Tied for Second Place—Won 3, Lost 2 League Meeting Yesterday Votes to Strengthen Weak Teams

With the first week of the polo season over, a meeting of the league officials was held in Boston yesterday afternoon, where all owners reported a most successful get-away. Plans to strengthen some of the weaker teams were discussed, and messages were sent out to several players, offering them places on two of the teams.

George "Lefty" Tyler of Salem, reported that Aquilino, who has been playing halfback for his team, had decided to give up polo. He was instructed to continue negotiations with "Lefty" Tyler, in an endeavor to get him to join his club. The league voted that Tyler was the property of the "Leftys" and that he could not play with any other team.

Frank De Bree, of the Portland team, which up to date has not won a game, was authorized to recruit 5 new goal tender and a center. Lowell was asked to release its hold on Huffer and the request was granted. De Bree then asked the other owners, also fifth and Evans.

James Graham of Providence, announced that he had signed a player to replace Alexander, and that he was satisfied for the present. Several representatives of accident insurance companies were admitted to the meeting to outline a proposition to insure the players. The matter was later discussed at length, but action was deferred.

All team owners reported large and enthusiastic crowds during the week. With the exception of Portland, all teams won a share of their games. New Bedford won four and lost one, the other teams lost Saturday night, when Salem, Inc. defeated the Whaling team and whittled the Whalers to the bone of 7 to 4. Lowell, Salem and Worcester are tied for the second place in the league, each having won three and lost two. Lowell's victories were over Portland on last Monday night, over Worcester at the local grounds on last Tuesday, and over Salem on Friday night. Saturday the team lost to Providence. This was a great game, up until the last period when Lowell's Lowell halfback met with an injury that forced him out of the game. As a result Lowell was taken out to equalize the teams and the game was finished with four on a side. Lowell and the other teams have been in a very close race, and it is only a matter of time before they will be back in the game in a few days.

The feature of the early season play has been the remarkable playing and goal shooting of "Lefty" Tyler, captain of "Lefty" Tyler's Salem team. Lowell has scored 23 goals in 10 games and 18 away out from in this department.

The team play of the Lowell outfit has been very satisfactory. Ed Williams and Harker are showing fine form on the rush line. Hardy is going good at center, while Mitchell and Lovgren are filling their places most acceptably. Lovgren's goal tending at Providence Saturday night was the best exhibition of the season. He piled up a record of 25 stops, which is the record to date.

Tomorrow night the Portland Bluebirds will make their initial bow to Lowell, when the line up will be against the Grays at the Crescent rink. It is possible that some of the new players will be with the visiting team. Either Griffith or Evans, and

This seems to be a year of upsets for the pugilistic champions. Johnny Buff, holder of the flyweight and bantam titles, has been shown of both.

First Joe Lynch beat Buff for the bantam title, then Dancho Villa took over the flyweight honors. Gene Connelley, light heavyweight champion, was defeated by Harry Greb, Georges Carpentier fell before Jack Britton, and to top it off the venerable Jack Britton was finally defeated by Mickey Walker for the welter title.

Who is this fellow James J. Delaney? No doubt that will be your first thought when you read of the Greb match.

Delaney is 21 years old, a native of St. Paul and Irish through and through. His father was born in Tipperary and his mother is from Kildare.

Delaney will get his first real try-out against Greb. It will give a good line on the youngster, who has been so highly touted. If he delivers against Greb he will be in big demand in the west.

Delaney is a product of St. Paul, Minn., known in ring circles as "The City of Champions." St. Paul has produced the Gibbons brothers, Mike and Tommy; Billy Mike; Mike O'Leary, Jack Malone and Johnny Britte, all former champions or near champions.

John Delaney is the latest out-put of the "City of Champions" and many of the western critics consider him the flashiest, cleverest and hardest hitting boxer that St. Paul has ever turned out.

John Delaney is the latest out-put of the "City of Champions" and many of the western critics consider him the flashiest, cleverest and hardest hitting boxer that St. Paul has ever turned out.

Delaney is 21 years old, a native of St. Paul and Irish through and through. His father was born in Tipperary and his mother is from Kildare.

Delaney will get his first real try-out against Greb. It will give a good line on the youngster, who has been so highly touted. If he delivers against Greb he will be in big demand in the west.

Delaney is a product of St. Paul, Minn., known in ring circles as "The City of Champions." St. Paul has produced the Gibbons brothers, Mike and Tommy; Billy Mike; Mike O'Leary, Jack Malone and Johnny Britte, all former champions or near champions.

champion, was defeated by Harry Greb. Georges Carpentier fell before Jack Britton, and to top it off the venerable Jack Britton was finally defeated by Mickey Walker for the welter title.

Who is this fellow James J. Delaney? No doubt that will be your first thought when you read of the Greb match.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

The "rulers" will hold the center of the local sporting stage this week, when a fine card will be presented at the Crescent rink under the auspices of the Polih sporting club.

George Katsanos, the "sensational" Jim Greb, who recently defeated the Princeton and Lee Smith are on the program, but the most important of the card is looked upon as one of the best men of the new crop of westerners and as a result of his victory over Lane he has been named champion.

Bob Johnson and Jim Greb, who have been "rassling" through the papers at curb stone gatherings for some time are finally to get together at the Polih rink under the auspices of the Polih sporting club.

The announcement that Mike Castle of Lawrence and the Polihman of Boston are to meet in the main event here on Thursday night is looked upon as the most important of the local boxing season. Castle has been going like a house on fire in his recent bouts and his sensational victories over Bobby Doyle and Phil Smith brought him the recognition he has long deserved. In his battle with Castle Castle showed in great advantage.

Friedman, who claims the New England heavyweight title, is a high class boxer, one who has met all the notables in his class and one who has suffered very few reverses. The other night he broad Johny Curran in a hectic battle, with the decision going against him, but he also points to a verdict over the same Curran in a previous battle. Friedman also has two victories over Young Montreal of recent date. He has boxed Danny Edwards and many other famous little fellows.

Angie Butler and Bryan Downey meet in the main event of the Arena A.A. show in Boston tonight.

Following his session with Malone at Mechanics building, a short time ago, Butler and Downey clashed in a fifteen rounder in New York and when all was over the referee and judges ruled the bout a draw. Here in Boston Butler surprised everyone by the sterling brand of work he offered. Malone's cleverness is known to every follower of boxing and that Butler could meet him in Boston class was seemed almost an impossibility.

Downey most decidedly defeated Yale Slegal the other night, but there are those who believe he cannot win from the New York boxer. At all events the bout promises to be one of the best staged in Boston class action. Both boxers will conclude their training in Boston.

In one of the eight rounds Jimmy McDonough and Steve Guinan, both of South Boston, will make their appearance.

American Ball Team Wins in Japan

TOKIO, Nov. 11.—The American All Star baseball team touring Japan, defeated the Waseda university team, 13 to 0. The Americans got 18 hits and made one error. The Japanese got two hits and made four errors. A crowd estimated at 6000 saw the game.

Dan O'Connor received the next punt and ran it back to yards, Rogers quickly back to the line for a slight gain. Butler and O'Connor in further contact. The ball was kicked to O'Connor placed a perfect forward pass directly into the hands of Conway, who was waiting on the field. The ball was caught by Conway and he ran for three yards, but O'Connor gained 2 yards on a fake and made 5 yards on a run. The game remained unchanged, so O'Connor punted to D. ped, D. O'Connor punting to the opposition. The Butlers played a waiting game and Loucraft returned the punt with O'Brien in a position to receive for the Cadets. The latter misjudged the snap, finger-floped it and let it roll behind the Butler goal. Britton was on top of it in a moment and before the Cadets had time to realize the situation, a touchdown had been scored. O'Leary kicked the goal. Score: Butlers 13, Cadets 0.

Kicking Duel
Chase ran back the Cadet kick 25 yards and returned the compliment by re-booting to the Cadets. A kicking duel ensued here. D. O'Connor again kicking, this time to McGlinchey. The latter also gained 15 yards on a criss-cross around his own left end. Conway later making it first down. He was not so fortunate on the next try, however. Conway thinking him for a loss of 15 yards, Chase stood on the 10 yard mark and attempted a drop kick, which was felled by Conway and D. O'Connor, who gathered 15 yards and made 5 yards on a run. U. S. ARMY HORSES IN LONDON'S HORSE SHOW

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The United States army will be represented among the entries at Olympia, London's horse show next spring, and will ride against the best of the world's forces. This announcement was made by Gen. Pershing at the horse show breakfast, which was held as a preliminary to the opening today of the 37th National Horse Show.

Gen. Pershing said that while no claims could be made in advance, the army officers would be relied upon to acquit themselves creditably in a field with Europe's best.

EXPECT BUELL TO PLAY AGAINST YALE

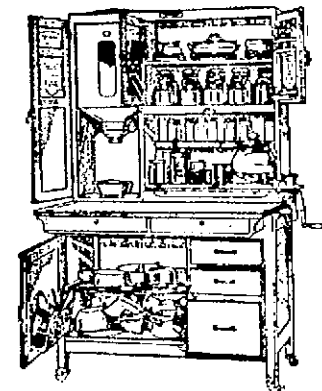

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 13.—Captain Charles Buell of the Harvard eleven, who suffered an injury to his leg in a football game last Saturday, is expected to play against Yale today.

Saturday's game with Princeton, probably will be back at his position, quarterback in the Yale game, according to Dr. Thomas K. Richards, Princeton varsity physician. Spalding, under study to Buell, who was also injured, will be absent for a day, but will be able to enter the lineup against the Blue, should he be needed. Dr. Richards said that every other varsity man would be fit for the big game barring further injuries.

Virtually the same eleven that conquered the University of Florida a week ago Saturday is to be drilled by the coaches for the Brown game next Saturday. Present plans call for sending most of the varsity players to see the Princeton-Yale encounter.

FOOTBALL PLAYER INJURED
"Bill" Collins, a member of the White Sox football team of North Billerica, sustained a fracture of the right leg in a game between his team and the First Ponies' team of this city played on the Kohlrausch grounds in the North Village Saturday afternoon. The young man was taken to St. John's hospital in this city. The injury was a result of a tackle during the game, which was largely attended by the crowd.

MOTHER! BREAK CHILD'S COLD

Hurry! Move Little Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

No matter what else you give your child to relieve a bad cold, cough, throat or congestion, be sure to first open the little one's bowels with "California Fig Syrup" to get rid of the poison and waste which are causing the cold and congestion. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works the constipation, sour bile and waste right out.

Even if you call your family physician he will praise you for having given "California Fig Syrup" as the laxative because it never fails, never cramps or overacts, and even sick children love its pleasant taste. "California Fig Syrup" when used in directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. "Mother, You must say 'California' or you may get an imitation fig syrup."

Billy Evans says

What about the new rule permitting a team to make one play from scrimmage after scoring a touchdown? Shortly after the opening of the football season I put that question to a number of the leading coaches. Few of them had anything good to say of the new rule. Some refused to express an opinion until the reform was given a thorough trial.

A few weeks ago I again put the same question to two prominent coaches in the west. Neither coach was of the opinion that the change had added anything new to the game. It provided any thrill for the spectator.

"The new rule simply resolves itself into a kicking affair," said one of the coaches. "It is practically the old play of the goal after a touchdown with a slightly altered dress. The play is a little more difficult, but I don't feel that it has added anything worth while to the game."

"That same week I looked over the scores of the big games, and found that most of the teams were missing their chances in attempting to score from scrimmage. That proved beyond a doubt that the play was far more difficult than the mere goal after touchdown."

Since coaches admit, and averages prove, that the scoring from scrimmage is far more difficult than the play, it is only reasonable to suppose that the play carries a greater thrill. The fact that the ball must be passed while the opposing team tries to break through to block the ball, certainly makes the play far more interesting than the old stunt of merely kicking the ball after it had been placed on the ground to wait the kicker.

That the play has possibilities other than mere kicking, that it offers the opportunity to resort to strategy if willing to take a chance, was shown in the game between Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson.

Lafayette led W. & J. 13 to 0 at the close of the second period. In the last two periods W. & J. put on a real comeback. With the score standing 13 to 7 against them, and with only a few minutes to play, W. & J., by resorting to a forward passing game, scored another touchdown.

The second touchdown made it 13 all, as Lafayette had failed at a goal from placement after the second touchdown. The winning of the game was put up to W. & J. on its ability to add an extra point from the scrimmage play. Lafayette expected a kick and centered on breaking through and blocking the try.

The heavy going, it had been raining hard, made it a difficult matter to kick accurately. It was here that Coach Neale's team crossed up the opposition. Instead of trying to kick, a pretty forward pass sent over the line for the much-needed point without the slightest opposition.

Looks as if much of the criticism of the new play was a trifle hasty. Perhaps it would be well to wait until it had a full season's trial.

BIG BILLIARD TOURNEY OPENS TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—While Hoppe, former 132 ball, the billiard champion, is the oldest, and Roger Conti, 21, the youngest of the six competitors, will play in the international tournament starting tonight at the Hotel Pennsylvania and continuing for eight days.

Jake Schaefer, the defending champion, will start the title matches tonight in a match with the French Hagelbacher, who is the oldest of the six competitors. Conti and Hoppe start play tomorrow, the former meeting the defending champion, and the latter, in the afternoon, will oppose Edouard Horremans of Belgium in an evening match.

Hoppe, who is 35 years old, began playing before he was seven and has won a sensational career. He began winning championships in 1904 and won at your at Chicago in 1912. He was beaten by Schaefer for the 132 title, had held both the 131 and 132 title championships since 1912.

Horremans is 33 years old, gained distinction as one of the foremost exhibition players since coming to this country, his achievements including a remarkable run of $15 in a match in New York last spring.

Schaefer, who developed his game under the tutelage of his famous father, the "Wizard" of 25 years ago, Hagelbacher, who is 27, has impressed critics with his play since coming here this year.

Conti, pronounced a "boy wonder" at the age of 14, is now 26 and one of the most brilliant performers in the game. Conti, the youngest entrant, has developed his game rapidly. In six years he has been playing and holds the distinction of being the only player in last year's international tournament who defeated the winner, Schaefer.

LOWELL MAN HONORED IN RHODE ISLAND

Political honors have fallen upon the shoulders of Patrick J. Cox, a former resident of this city, who was recently elected a state senator in Rhode Island with a plurality of 3596 votes. He is the only new democrat to gain a seat in the Rhode Island senate this year.

Mr. Cox left this city about 10 years ago. During his residence in Belvidere he was prominent in social organizations, having been at one time president of the Y.M.C.A. His two brothers, Terry Cox and William H. Cox, are also well known in the city, the former being a barber and the latter, foreman in the city buildings department.

ARMISTICE SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

The First Church Congregational Church yesterday observed Armistice Sunday with a special musical program and a special sermon delivered by Rev. The church was decorated with the national colors and the flags of the allies while the service day of the church had a place of honor on the platform.

American Wrapper on German Cigaretts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Large tobacco company representatives have reported to government officials the activities of certain German manufacturers in marketing in Germany, cigarette made of European tobacco in wrappers cleverly counterfeiting an American brand with its distinguishing picture. Even a counterfeit American revenue stamp is used. Soldiers at Cologne and American tourists reported the matter and various government agencies are co-operating with the American manufacturers to punish the German cigarette makers in the German courts under the commercial conventions safeguarding the marking of American goods.

Use of Paint Helps Shell-Shocked Soldiers

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 13.—The use of paint in helping shell-shocked soldiers to regain their health, was the subject of a paper prepared by S. T. Ballinger of New York for the annual convention of the National Paint, Oil & Varnish Association here today. According to the paper, a young soldier, a mental wreck, regained his health rapidly in a room finished in primrose yellow. Dark colors produced melancholia, red had a temporary stimulating effect followed by a nervous reaction, blue caused apparent calm, green happiness and vitality, and yellow amiability, investigation disclosed, Mr. Ballinger said.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—There were 70,000 less children born in France this year than last, according to figures published by Le Journal today. The statistics were gathered by the National Alliance for the Increase of the French Population.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and a chemist, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping, no "kernot" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.—Adv.

A Successful Man

Among the notable professional men of this country who have achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line.

Over fifty years ago this noted physician gave to the world a prescription which has never been equaled for the weakness of women. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for barbaiche, headache, weakening pulse, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Women who take this standard remedy know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic and one that druggists everywhere sell in both tablet and fluid form.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive a free medical advice—Adv.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN OIL FIELDS

Worst Fire in the 21 Years' History of Gulf Coast Oil Fields is Raging

Earth Tanks Holding Three-Quarters of a Million Barrels of Oil Afire

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 12.—The most disastrous fire in the 21 years' history of gulf coast oil fields is raging in the Humble sector, 17 miles northeast of Houston. Earth tanks holding three-quarters of a million barrels of oil worth about $1,000,000 are afire and with a stiff wind in the north, other reservoirs are endangered.

During a storm yesterday a lightning bolt struck tank 21 of the Gulf Pipe Line Co. transportation subsidiary of the Gulf Oil corporation. A column of flame shot skyward, followed by a dense cloud of smoke and an explosion that shook Humble town site.

Tank 22 caught fire this morning. The flames threatened two tanks of the Gulf Co. and the Sun company tank on the opposite side of the road. There is no means of combating the flames except to pump the oil from beneath the tanks and officials of the interested companies are on the ground directing operations.

Pumps are working on tank 22, but the salvage is said to be small.

GRAND DRAWING FOR AUTOMOBILE

The final meeting of the carnival committee of Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus, held tonight and it is expected that all details incident to the recent affair, will be cleared up satisfactorily. Plans will be completed for the autumn dancing party to be held tomorrow night in Associate hall, at which the main attraction will be the grand drawing for the classy Jewett sedan. The Knight Hart said today that tomorrow evening's affair will be an enjoyable one and confidently expects a large crowd to participate in the final carnival and the most successful carnival ever conducted by the Knights in this city.

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a tired, worn-out feeling and painful periods. I used to get up with a pain in my head and pains in my lower parts and back. Often I was not able to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it. I feel so well and strong and can do every bit of my work and not a pain in my back now. I recommend your medicine and you can use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. F. H. MASON, 801 Winslow St., St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles only women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away—one after another.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a Woman's Medicine for Women's Ailments. Always reliable.

PLAYS ROLE OF STERN AND IRATE UNCLE

F. Kelley. As the stern and irate uncle of his ward, "Kathleen," he displays unusual ability in the portrayal of his difficult role. Most of us know Mr. Kelley best because of his unusual tenor voice and it is pleasant to note that the character of Michael Flynn gives him opportunity of displaying both voice and histrionic ability.

EXPECTS BONUS BILL TO BE ENACTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Confidence that a soldiers' bonus bill would be enacted by the congress which comes into existence after March 4, was expressed today by John Thomas Taylor, legislative representative of the American Legion, in a statement which declared the election demonstrated that the sentiment of the country was behind compensation legislation.

With the new house 3 to 1 in favor of the measure, Taylor said, 69 senators would support the legislation, giving bonus proponents a safe margin in the senate over the number of needed to override a presidential veto. Taylor said that of 10 senators up for reelection who voted in September for the compensation bill, 15 were returned to the senate. Fifteen of 18 new senators he added, favored the proposal.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

Gold Star Medals Distributed in Building Dedicated to Lowell's War Heroes

With simple but impressive ceremonies 130 gold star medals were last night presented to the nearest of kin of the Lowell boys who fought and died in the World War. More than 1000 people gathered in Memorial Auditorium for the exercise which was a formal recognition of the fourth anniversary of the signing of the armistice. It was particularly fitting that the medals given by the city to mothers, wives, fathers and nearest of kin should be presented in the building dedicated in part to these dead heroes, and on the day that commemorated the signing of the document that officially ended those four years of strife and heartache.

Commander Stephen C. Garrity of the American Legion was master of the ceremonies which lasted less than one hour. The program consisted of a program with a selection of variations in which the recipients filed on to the stage from the right entrance and took the seats arranged for them. Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan of St. Peter's church delivered the invocation and as he brought back memories of those days when words of sorrow came to the homes of many Lowell people, not a few in the audience were seen to wipe away the unbidden tear.

After the audience had joined in the singing of "American" Mayor Brown was introduced. He referred to the boys who had made the supreme sacrifice. He quoted a passage from his Auditorium dedication speech in which he said his feelings for this occasion were expressed. The mayor then called the roll. As each name was read, a medal was given out by John J. Walsh, who assisted in the program. The recipient of the medal stepped forward and was presented the decoration by the mayor. As each person stepped from his seat he was assisted to the front by uniformed ushers. The ushers were Fred A. Eames, Robert Rutledge, Joseph Dwyer, George Whelan and Patrick O'Brien.

One of the most touching incidents of the evening came when Mrs. Isabel Silk of Chelmsford, who lost two sons, Gerald and Bruno Silk, during the war, was presented with two medals. Rev. Appleton Greenleaf called her for her benediction. His remarks were brief but in them he conveyed many thoughts of comfort to those assembled on the stage. He reminded his hearers of the days following the armistice when they came back to greet their friends and relatives and of the days when those who looked in vain at the ranks of the returning boys.

ENJOYED VISIT TO NAVY YARD

A trip through the Portsmouth, N. H. navy yard and special inspection of four submarines now under construction there, made this Friday and Saturday visit of Assistant Secretary Edward Gallagher of the chamber of commerce, to the New England secretaries' convention in Portsmouth doubly interesting.

The convention advanced plans for increasing membership, although 31 members answered roll-call at Portsmouth. An effort will be made to secure at least 50 members to carry on plans now being made to strengthen the organization. Among those who addressed the convention was Leverett C. Parsons of Boston, who discoursed at length on the value of investing personal funds in good, sound banking institutions. The familiar example of the man who, at the age of 25 years, started saving $2 a month and discovered when he reached the age of 66 that he had $50,000, was told again, with several other illustrative stories that kept the secretaries busy jotting down notes to take back to the home city organizations for discussion later on. Mr. Gallagher's report of the convention covered several pages and was concise and newsworthy from start to finish. Hotel Rockingham was headquarters for the November convention.

With train service uncertain because of severe freight congestion on the B. & M. Secretary Gallagher accepted an invitation from a man who said he was bound for Lowell and would give him a ride. The tourist proved to be John J. O'Rourke, formerly assistant secretary of the Lowell chamber. O'Rourke visited friends in Lowell and vicinity over Sunday. He is now located in Norwich, Ct.

STUDY COST OF LIVING

National Industrial Conference Board Studies Cost of Living in Lawrence

Believing that the standards of living and costs are comparatively the same in Lawrence and other industrial cities, the National Industrial Conference board has completed and made public the results of a field study of the minimum cost of maintaining a fair American standard of living according to conditions actually prevailing in Lawrence. This study was made practically at the height of the textile strike that extended from late in March, 1922, to the end of August, 1922.

The results of the study are of especial interest because they make possible a comparison of the cost of living among wage-earners' families after the wage reductions announced in December, 1920, and the additional reductions announced in March, 1922, with the cost of living in November, 1919, when the National Industrial Conference board made its first study of living costs in that city.

The Conference board emphasizes that, in considering the estimates of the cost of living arrived at as a result of this study, the estimated minimum cost should be taken as representing only the minimum cost of maintaining a fair American standard of living and not the average cost or even the cost which is necessarily representative of the entire group of wage earners covered at a time and place. Furthermore, while costs are given for families with three children, as well as for families with one or two, this does not imply that such families are representative of conditions actually existing. Previous studies by the board indicate that the number of children per family is generally somewhat less than three. Nor is the minimum cost of living necessarily the means of a living wage since in the great majority of families there are other sources of income than the earnings of the principal bread winner.

Regarding food, it was found in Lawrence, June, 1922, that the cost of a minimum food budget amounted to $5.55 a week for a family with one child, $7.40 for a family with two children and $8.95 for a family with three children on the basis of prices then prevailing. The equivalent yearly cost would be $288.40 for a family of three persons, $384.40 for a family of four persons and $466.10 for a family of five.

The minimum rent for any sort of accommodation in June, 1922, was reported to be $1 a room a week. The accommodations available for this amount were generally out of repair or even unsanitary, but there would be necessary to allow at least $5 a week for rent in Lawrence in June, 1922, to secure four satisfactory rooms, which is the minimum requirement for families of four or five persons living alone.

For this rent a bath might not be obtained, but there would be gas and a toilet. The annual rent for such a tenement would be $250. A similar family could probably secure satisfactory accommodations for $4 a week in a year.

The total allowance necessary for a minimum allowance of clothing required in one year, for a man, woman and one child, would be $167.30; for a family with two children $197.54; for a family with three children $247.12. Corresponding weekly costs would average $3.22, $3.59 and $4.58 respectively.

Coal cost $16.50 a ton in Lawrence in June, 1922, and gas was $1.55 a thousand. Combining the cost of fuel and light on this basis, with a small allowance for food and matches, the necessary minimum weekly cost of fuel and light is found to be $2.79 for families with two or three children; families with only one child would require to spend $2.58 a week. These sums correspond to $1.59 and $1.51 respectively each week.

Combining the cost of such items as transportation, recreation, medical care, insurance, candy, tobacco, reading material, household furnishings, etc., on the basis of the needs of a family of five in June, 1922, the minimum allowance for sundries for a man, woman and one child under 14 years of age is found to be $247.12 a year or $4.56 a week. Families with one child would need $211.64 a week or $4.12 a week; families with two children, $241.18 a week or $4.27 a week; and families with three children $281.18 a week or $4.74 a week.

The average cost of the separate items in the minimum family budget, and of all items combined, indicate that in order to maintain a family of man, woman and one child under 14 years of age at a fair minimum American standard, according to conditions actually existing in Lawrence, in June, 1922, $22.72 a year or $17.75 a week would be necessary. Families with two children would need $21.64 a week or $12.25 a week; and families with three children $24.18 a week or $12.74 a week.

Comparing the cost of the various items in the family budget based on quotations for goods secured so far as possible from identical stores, it was found that the average cost of the minimum allowance of food for a family in Lawrence had decreased 23 per cent between November, 1919 and June, 1922; that the advance in rents in this period was 42 per cent; that the man's clothing budget had decreased 22.5 per cent; the woman's 24.2 per cent and the children's 11.1 per cent or that of the entire family 28 per cent.

POLITICS DISCUSSED AT MASS MEETING

A big mass meeting of voters from wards 6 and 7, which was held in the C.M.A.C. hall in Pawtucket street yesterday afternoon. The meeting, according to announcements made last week, was called for the purpose of discussing the advisability of a candidate for mayor from either ward 6 or 7, but although the meeting lasted several hours and the political situation was discussed from practically every angle, no mention was made of selecting a mayoral candidate.

At the opening of the meeting L. P. Turcotte was unanimously chosen chairman, while L. J. Branson was elected secretary. There were remarks by several of these present and a surprise was sprung by Lawyer Arthur L. Kane, a former member of the Memorial Auditorium commission, when he announced that he would be a candidate for school committee. The announcement was received with applause and his candidacy was endorsed.

Maurice J. Lambert, a member of the school committee, informed those present that he will aspire for councilor-at-large, while Joseph A. N. Chretien and Arthur Gendron, two members of the council, announced that they will be in line for a re-election in wards 6 and 7, respectively. At the close of the meeting a committee of 15 was appointed to study the local political situation more thoroughly and make a report at another mass meeting to be held in the near future.

FIRST PUBLIC LECTURE HERE ON CANCER

Lowell's city-wide campaign against the ravages of cancer will start officially next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, in Liberty hall, Memorial Auditorium, under the auspices of the Lowell committee of the American Society for the Prevention of Cancer. Dr. J. A. Gage is chairman.

"Cancer week" is being generally observed beginning this morning, in Lowell and vicinity. Warm-hearted men and women, resolved to do all the campaign in this city as far as possible, have distributed literature describing the disease, some of its causes, methods of treatment, etc. The activities of the Lowell committee, under Dr. Gage, are spreading and the work has assumed an importance of character that deserves the support of all citizens vitally interested in the country-wide battle against the cancer curse that has been rapidly spreading during the past decade.

Among the principal speakers for the Auditorium meeting will be Dr. Edward Gendron of Boston, there will be a display of moving pictures and the auspices of the American Society for the Prevention of Cancer.

STRIKERS EXPECT PRESIDENT McMAHON

President Thomas P. McMahon of the United Textile Workers of America is expected to come to this city Nov. 24 at which time he will attend the meeting of the Lowell Textile council. In the event of Mr. McMahon's coming to Lowell, he will be represented by one of the vice presidents of the organization.

Mr. McMahon or his representative will come here for organizing purposes and an invitation is being extended to the members of this city to attend the meeting. It is also stated that plans for the support of the unemployed textile operatives will be made at the meeting.

John Bailey, president of the council, stated this morning that today marks the beginning of the 41st week of the textile strike in Lowell, and despite the fact that the wage cut, which had been responsible for the strike, was restored several weeks ago, there are still between 200 and 300 textile operatives out of work. "These people," he said, "apply for work for local mills every morning, but they always receive the same old answer, 'nothing today, we will put you to work when conditions warrant it.'"

PLAN B CHARTER TALKS NO. 2

Under Plan B charter the duties and powers of the mayor, who is the executive officer of the city, are even more general than under the present organic of government. He does not return as an administrative head of any department, however, as was the case under the old commission form. The police department passed out of mayoral control when the present charter went into effect and under Plan B it remains entirely under the jurisdiction and direction of its superintendent.

Under Plan B the mayor appoints all administrative officers and members of boards and commissions, excluding the school committee and officials appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation by the city council. The only exception is the city solicitor, who is a direct mayoral appointee. This is a change from the present charter which provides for the election of a majority of the members of the council, the auditor and city treasurer directly by a majority vote of the council, without nomination or approval by the mayor.

Any administrative officer or member of board or commission may be removed by the mayor, with the approval of a majority of the members of the council. This check upon removals is not found in the present charter, for now the mayor may remove without council approval, although the removed officer may demand a public hearing before the council and may receive reinstatement by a two-thirds vote of the council. Plan B also provides for a public hearing before the city council, but it is felt that reinstatement by a two-thirds vote would be next to impossible after the council had voted on the mayor's act of removal by a majority vote.

Every order, ordinance, resolution and vote passed by the council must be presented to the mayor. If he approves it, he shall sign it, if he disapproves it he shall return it, with his reasons for so doing, in writing to the council, who again may consider it and may then pass it over the veto by a two-thirds vote of all its members. This is no change from the present form. Every vote, order, ordinance or resolution submitted to the council shall be returned by the mayor if not returned by the mayor within ten days after presented to him.

The awarding of contracts under Plan B is absolutely a duty of the mayor. This was determined in a recent case brought before the supreme judicial court. This is a power that does not belong to the mayor under the present charter and is all important under Plan B.

Administrative heads of departments and members of boards and commissions now holding office under the old charter are not ousted by the change to Plan B, but under its provisions are to serve out the terms in which they have been elected. Then each is subject to retirement or re-election.

POSTMASTER COMMENDS LETTER CARRIER

A few months ago, Postmaster Dillie notified all local letter carriers to instruct residents on their respective routes to install regulation mail boxes in their homes or offices so as to make the delivery system as nearly as perfect as possible and at the same time to decrease the anxiety caused by the loss of mail matter because of improper receptacles. In order to have the task completed in the quickest possible time, the postmaster offered to publicly commend the carrier who first reported the provision of boxes on his entire route. As the result of his satisfactory report, the distinguished honor goes to Carrier John J. Dillie, who presented his claim to the postmaster last Saturday.

Mr. Dillie's route includes sections of the Highlands and Ayer city. The postmaster's letter of commendation, one copy of which will be placed in a conspicuous place in the postoffice, and another sent to Washington, is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Dillie: Your foreman, Mr. Willis, has just reported that an inspection of your route today shows it to be completely provided with mail boxes or slots. As you are the first carrier in this city to report your route so fully equipped with boxes or slots, I desire to express my personal appreciation of your foresight and success. I have no doubt that it is only by untiring persistency that you have succeeded in convincing all patrons on your route, the necessity for boxes or slots and for this good work please accept my thanks and commendation. I am notifying the department that you are the first in this city and am placing a copy of this commendation in your official record in the office. Very truly yours,
N. A. DILLIE, Acting Postmaster."

About 15 minutes after Mr. Dillie's report had been received by the postmaster, William J. Higgins notified the postmaster that his route had likewise been fully equipped with boxes. He was also congratulated by the postmaster for his good work.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

This morning's session of the district court was taken up mostly by cases dealing with drunkenness although one or two involving assault and battery and non-support were on. A number of drunkenness offenses were sentenced to the house of correction while a number were also fined.

Two men and one woman, all of whom were arrested together and charged with drunkenness, pleaded guilty. It was one man's first offense and the others had been before the court a number of times in the past, but for the past year has been attempting to travel the straight and narrow path. The court recognized this fact by putting the case on file.

Timothy E. Harrington pleaded guilty to drunk and to insurance to a charge of assault and battery upon Joseph M. Cook. The complainant testified that he was going home Saturday night when two men, one of them Harrington, passed him. He said one of the men was covered with blood and when he turned to look at the pair Harrington clashed him and struck him. The defendant said he did not remember the affair. He was found guilty and fined $15. The drunkenness complaint was placed on file.

Thomas Flannagan pleaded guilty to drunkenness. An old complaint dating back to October 29, 1921, was brought against him. It was for drunkenness. The case was continued for one week. He was held in $200 on each charge.

Howard Murphy of West Chelmsford pleaded guilty to drunkenness. He was fined $10 and given three months in the house of correction for drunkenness and sentenced to three months. Milton Greenwood was charged with drunkenness and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. The case was continued to Saturday at the request of the government.

Fred D. J. Movel was found guilty and fined $25 for operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. A case of simple drunkenness against him was filed.

VERDI'S REQUIEM MASS

Large Audience Hears Lowell Choral Society, at the Memorial Auditorium

Verdi's Requiem Mass was sung by the Lowell choral society in the Memorial Auditorium yesterday afternoon, with Marie Sundelius, soprano; Alma Beck, contralto; Byron Hudson, tenor; and Paul Parks, bass, as soloists. While the great hall was not filled to the limit of its capacity, as it should have been, the audience was larger than the prior ticket sale had forecasted.

Hardly within memory has a more impressive choral work been given in Lowell and its significance was magnified a hundred-fold by its application to the dead. The choir, which made the fourth anniversary of the signing of the World War armistice. Indeed it was a mighty and solemn requiem to the hero dead, sung with deep religious fervor as a beautiful memorial to Lowell's sons who gave their lives that democracy might be sustained upon the earth.

While the work of the four soloists left little to be desired, it was the choir of 250 voices that sang into the mass its real and lasting significance. Under the leadership of Eusebius G. Hood, who has brought the local organization and the choir to a high standard of musical work as we know it, the chorus handled the difficult Latin text skillfully and gave the ever changing passages with brilliant effect. When a pianissimo tone was required, as was the case in many instances, Mr. Hood had the choir under such complete control that the words were chanted almost in a whisper. Despite the fact that the printed program carried a request to refrain from applause, there were times when it broke out spontaneously, so artistically was it well being sung.

The return of Mrs. Sundelius to the city was anticipated with much pleasure and it seemed that the glorious voice of the Metropolitan star has attained greater range and a more beautiful tonal quality since her last visit. The solo work of Miss Beck and Mr. Hudson and Mr. Parks was of a most satisfactory, also and each had opportunity to be heard to distinct advantage.

The orchestral score was admirably handled by the Boston Festival orchestra, with John W. Crowley as principal.

SNOW STORMS AND ROAD BLOCKADES

With autumn still clinging tenaciously to the city, the first of the snow storms and road blockades, nevertheless citizens of Lowell and Lawrence believe, in taking time by the proverbial forerock, etc.

Hence tonight's really momentous meeting over in Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and the Lowell chamber, Lowell members of the local chamber will be on hand to discuss the snow blockade question from every angle.

Two years ago, the roads were ploughed out regularly all one winter and automobile traffic between Lowell and Lawrence was not hindered much by any storm. The plan was not in order last winter, however, with dire local results following several severe storms all fully remembered.

At the local chamber this morning, it was said that some office attendants and members would attend tonight's conference and it did not may be taken up later on with the street railway company and the automobile highway commission.

Last year, the commission "cut" a number of highway snow removal operations, although allowed money to be used for snow removal outside of Boston in thickly populated districts, and also kept the main highway from Boston to Lowell open.

Ayer's plan for contributing much money for the Lowell-Lawrence project, and the work that was performed in the past, went into the discard last season.

The truck owners are heavily interested in the problem of tonight's conference. An open road to the distribution of goods of all kinds, is a necessity for the proper functioning of the city. The campaign may be started by the city later on to provide funds with which to keep the Lawrence highway open during severe storms. If the state does not aid the cities desiring this service.
